

Scott D. Miller, Ph.D.

Dr. Scott D. Miller is President of Virginia Wesleyan University, Coastal Virginia's premier university of the liberal arts and sciences located in Virginia Beach, Virginia. Respected as one of the nation's top university leaders, Dr. Miller has led the university for over 20 years. As a former president, Dr. Miller has dedicated his career to the opportunities available through higher education. He especially values the small, liberal arts college environment that offers students personalized pathways to life and career success.

Previously, he was President of Bethany College (2007-2015), Wesley College (1997-2007), and Lincoln Memorial University (2001-07). At LMU, he was just 21 years old at the time of service as a CEO are rare for higher education leaders. According to the American Council on Education "American College Presidents Study," just 1.1 percent of leaders were on their fourth presidencies in the most recent year of the survey. More than 98 percent of respondents had held

He has authored or edited 21 books and over 200 professional articles. He has been a regular columnist for The Virginian-Pilot, Enrollment Manager, College Planning and Management, and professor "Presidential Perspectives," a national thought series for college and university presidents in partnership with the American Council on Education. He has also been a frequent speaker at national and international education conferences. He has received numerous awards and honors, including the Distinguished Achievement Award from the American Council on Education. He has been a frequent speaker at national and international education conferences. He has received numerous awards and honors, including the Distinguished Achievement Award from the American Council on Education.

the Board of Directors of the International Association of Methodist Schools, Colleges and Universities of the Christian Church, Disciples of Christ (CCUCC), and was chair of the Association on the Board of Directors of the International Association of Methodist Schools, Colleges and resident of Virginia Beach. Vision, the national leading business advocacy organization in Coastal Virginia.

He has received numerous awards and accolades over his four-decade career in higher education. In 2023, he was named a "Top 100" leader in the field by the Center for Inclusive Communities. In 2024, he was honored by the United Negro College Fund with the M.A.S.K.E.D. Award for his leadership in the field of higher education.

He has also served on the Board of Directors of Washington, D.C.